ADELAIDE, WEDNESDAY.

The Colonial Treasurer seated in the Assembly yesterday that the Government intend to take the creation of a new Parliament House, in accordance with a resolution passed in the Assembly.

Replying to a telegram from the Government of the colony, Mr. Turner, the Deputy Postmaster-General, for the Victorian, telegraphed, denying the authenticity of the statement that the Siam was intended to proceed to Melbourne without calling at Adelaide.

A grand fat mae took place to-night, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the building fund for a new German Club House.

DEATH OF MR. C. C. COX, OF BROOKVIEW.—In reference to the death of Mr. Charles Clarendon Cox, the Advertiser of yesterday has published an obituary notice, which states that the deceased gentleman had been suffering for a few days from a severe cold, and Dr. Rowling was sent for on Sunday morning. He found Mr. Cox with a high fever, and was known to be in a very low state, but saw no occasion for anxiety or alarm. During Sunday he improved, and on Sunday night seemed much better, but early yesterday morning he became delirious and died in sleep. The following informs us that the immediate cause of death was rapid effusion of the brain. The funeral, we learn, will take place to-day (Tuesday), moving from St. John's Church at half-past 3 p.m. Mr. Cox was well known to many of our friends in this district and colony, but also in the adjacent colonies, possessing an Australian reputation as a breeder of pure Merino sheep. The writer has often seen Mr. Cox's sheep, and was well acquainted with the C. C. Cox and Bayly sheep, long before he ever saw Mr. Cox or either of the gentlemen named. In this district, where Mr. Cox chiefly resided, but also in the colony, he was not only much respected, but also highly liked. The residents generally who knew him long, had always a kindly word when speaking of "Charles Cox," as he was called, that factored in his early life, the character of being liberal, charitable, and an equally good-natured, and his many estimable social qualities made him a general favourite. Though not possessing good health for many years, he was, however, suddenly called on at last—being apparently in the enjoyment of better health than usual only a short time before his death, and all that his relatives and friends could do was to assist him to retain the loss of a general companion and useful citizen.

 What makes the death of Mr. C. C. Cox all the more sad is the fact that his brother, Mr. F. S. Cox, a devoted and successful farmer, has few relatives, and his immediate relatives will receive very largely the sympathy of the whole of the inhabitants of the district on this double loss, which has fallen on them within so short a period.

The Cape of Good Hope—The Cape Argus of the 14th May, which reached Australia by the steamship Cusco, states that—"The fifth session of the South African Republics opened on the 10th inst. at Pretoria, the capital. His Excellency adjured the present frontier war, and regrets that it should still continue, adding 'operations will be continuously and vigorously prosecuted until the enemy is completely subdued, their power completely broken, and their groundwork of a permanent peace is laid. The future government of the native population is to be determined under the present conditions, and the bill submitted for amending the law relating to native locations, so as to place the natives under more effective control, and to prevent the accumulation of property of large bodies of lawless people, has been passed."

lency congratulates the colony on the rapid progress being made with public works. The news from the frontiers is all encouraging, and the Government has again to record some severe encounters with the enemy, not unattended with casualty to our forces. Major McNaughton, in command of the Frontier Force, has been severely wounded in the recent campaign of Captain Cerrington for the Transvaal, while General while attacking the rebels near Murray's River, was severely wounded in the back. The General is still in the field. The arrival of 200 troops is reported at Lydenburg on the 30th April. A fort has been built at Tembuluke, and Captain Clarke with 500 men is in command of the district. The new Chief Unseto is expected with a large contingent. Captain Devoet is dead. The contingent of Volunteers which returned to Cape town by the Nyasas has received a warm welcome.

VIOLENT STORM IN THE WINKLER DISTRICT, VICTORIA.—A fearful storm of wind and rain (states the Arco Mail) passed over Landsborough at 10 o'clock on the 29th inst. and did much damage to the crops, unparallelled force, and had a most de structive effect. Nearly every house in the town was more or less damaged. The Landsborough church was partly blown down, and the roof of the school was blown off of the perpendicular. So much was the building damaged that it is thought it will have to be pulled down. The Commercial Hotel and Billiard Room, Landsborough, were also very much damaged. The village of Yerrandah was clearly blown down, while trees and outhouses were scattered about like so much chaff. The station at Yerrandah was blown down, and the H.M. it continued much longer, not a single house would have been left standing in the town.

POPULAR APPLAUSE IN COURTS OF L. A. E.—It is reported by the Argus of Monday that when the jury in the case of Henry Gill returned their verdict of not guilty on Saturday afternoon, the audience in the gallery burst into loud applause. The chief of the police, who had been seated in the gallery, rose in the applause, and brought him before his Honor Mr. Justice Barry. His Honor said that he regretted that since his return to the colony that the character of the public had deteriorated. The audience were to remember that they were not in a theatre, but in a place where the public had a right to be educated. He declared that he could not allow any expressions of opinion to be given in the court on verdicts of justice because, if applause were to be given for acquitting a man, it would be tantamount to saying that the crime could not be tolerated. The young man said that this was only the second time he had been a juror, and he was carried away by his feelings at the moment when the jury returned their verdict. His Honor said that on Monday morning, as a warning to others, but the young man repeating that he did not intend any offence, and was sorry for what he had done, his Honor allowed him to leave the Court, and biding him not to misbehave again.

IMPORTATION OF STOCK PROHIBITION.—A special meeting of the West Bourke Agricultural Society was held at the residence of Mr. J. H. H. on Saturday afternoon, to discuss the question whether Victoria should continue the prohibition on prohibiting the importation of stock from ports where the plague exists. The meeting was held in the evening, and the proclamation expires at the end of men at this month, and the Governments of New South Wales and Queensland have, it is stated, already agreed to support a motion now being introduced by The National Agricultural Society of Victoria has by a large majority expressed itself in favour of 'this colony continuing the prohibition of the importation of swine from the United States to induce the West Bourke Society, at the meeting on Saturday, to neutralise this vote by a remonstrance in favour of Victoria following the example of New South Wales and Queensland. The society, however, has been unanimously agreed to support a resolution expressing the opinion that the abolition of the prohibition would be a most suicidal step.

An important collection of Hebrew manuscripts has recently been brought to London, and the question of their purchase has been referred to the Jewish authorities of the British Museum. They are forty in number, and come from Sana and Yemen. Thirteen of them are Biblical. Some are in book form, some are scrolls. In some of the books Hebrew and Chaldee are interwoven, and in others the text is in Hebrew with a marginal gloss in Arabic. The most valuable are a series of laws in the fact that several of them have the superlative vowel points which were found only in the Babylonian Codex, of which a trace is found in the
